blitzbox

Every document has a story

We do often remember the story of our documents — where they were presented or who sent them by mail.

blitzbox is document search driven by stories blitzbox infers these stories from local or cloud-hosted file systems, mail accounts, calendars, and address books. The blitzbox search interface offers relevant story elements for intuitive querying, combined with classical keyword search.

blitzbox is independent of any content management system and will be available for Windows and OS X.
